French Property the American Way

Adrian Leeds

Giving you an insider's look at life in France for over 25 years.

Who We Are

We Only Have One Person in Mind: YOU

Every property search, every piece of advice we give, is for the benefit of you, our client. Period. From the beginning, Adrian Leeds has been bringing people together and creating support and community among expatriates. Adrian Leeds Group grew out of her desire to give fellow expats a trusted ally to help navigate the French real estate system—the differences in the way it operates, the maze of French laws, and any aspect that might prove daunting to someone less experienced.

We were the first to provide this service, and have the expertise and resources to handle everything related to French real estate: complete property consultation services, property listing sales services, finding financing, property search for rent or purchase, managing the purchase or sale process from start to finish, developing and offering fractional ownership properties, property evaluations, and even renovation and decoration services.

Why We Exist

French Property the American Way

We are devoted to Anglophones and non-residents who desire to live and/or invest in France. Our team of experts knows the laws, customs, and language, and how to navigate the complex systems so you can rest assured. Let us make your dream of living in France a reality—right now.

- We make the process easy —
- We find the best properties to suit you —
- We save you time and money —
- We're experts you can trust —

"A Dream to Work With"

Adrian was an absolute dream to work with. Without her and her priceless connections, I can't imagine how anyone could navigate purchasing property in France. Words cannot express how grateful we are. She made our dream of living in Paris a reality and we are so honored to now call her our friend and neighbor
